157. Use a dash for "to" connecting two words or numbers:
In connecting consecutive numbers, omit hundreds from the second number—i.e., use only two figures—unless the first number ends in two ciphers, in which case repeat; if the next to the last figure in the first number is a cipher, do not repeat this in the second number:

158. Let a dash precede the reference (author, title of work, or both) following a direct quotation, consisting of at least one complete sentence, in footnotes or cited independently in the text (see 75):
"I felt an emotion of the moral sublime at beholding such an instance of civic heroism."—Thirty Years, I, 379.

The green grass is growing,
The morning wind is in it,
'Tis a tune worth the knowing,
Though it change every minute.
—Emerson, "To Ellen, at the South."

159. A dash should not ordinarily be used in connection with any other point, except a period:
"Dear Sir: I have the honor . . . ." not: "Dear Sir:—I have . . . ."
"This—I say it with regret—was not done;" not: "This,—I say it with regret,—was . . . ."
